MEET THE NEW TRUSTEES

In November 2021, the Library’s Board of Trustees swore in two new trustees to fill vacant seats. We wanted to learn more about these Morton Grove residents and public servants, so we asked them to complete a short Q&A. Learn more about our Board of Trustees at mgpl.org/board-of-trustees.

MARK FLORES

Why you wanted to join the Board of Trustees: Growing up, the library played an integral part of my development. I was always at the library, whether checking out “Choose Your Own Adventure” books, attending educational programs like “Rocket Building,” or looking at microfiche for my midterm papers. It was a safe place to be yourself, find yourself, or just be by yourself. My kids have also enjoyed the library and its programming since we moved to Morton Grove. When I found out there was a place on the Board of Trustees, it seemed like a natural fit for a place to give back to a community that has embraced us with open arms.

Fun fact about yourself: I was the featured artist in Rick Bayless’ XOCO Restaurant in Wicker Park. The restaurant no longer exists, but the pieces are in two upscale restaurants in the West Loop, Cruz Blanca and Lena Bрева, and I was recently commissioned to do some pieces for local Morton Grove residents.

Favorite place in Morton Grove: The forest preserve. Not having grown up close to nature, it is one of my favorite places to wander around (on a bike).

Last thing you checked out from the library: An issue of Ad Age magazine that I thought the agency I work for was featured in, only to find out we never made the print edition!

Favorite books: 48 Laws of Power by Robert Greene, The Westies by T. J. English, My Bloody Life by Reymundo Sanchez. I once interviewed Reymundo Sanchez and was given a tour of his haunts in the city. It was fascinating and I ended up getting his sister, the future author of Lady Q: The Rise and Fall of a Latin Queen, a job at the newspaper I worked at in the early 2000s.

Favorite movies: Dracula, The Irishman

Your life summed up: “Grew up wanting to be an international street artist, ended up a suburban dad working at a small marketing agency.”

MOHAMMED HUSSAIN

Why you wanted to join the Board of Trustees: I love the library and I wanted to do my part to continue its record of excellent service to our community. My family has benefitted from the library in innumerable ways, and as a board member it is my hope that every Morton Grover can find as much benefit in this institution as we do.

Fun fact about yourself: Somehow my Spanish is better than my Urdu and Arabic.

Favorite place in Morton Grove: Super Cup, MCC, and Austin Park in the summer.

The last thing you checked out from the library: World Travel: An Irreverent Guide by Anthony Bourdain and a Roku stick.

Favorite movie(s): The Lord of the Rings trilogy, Apocalypto, Ghost Dog, Malcolm X, and Spring, Summer, Fall, Winter... and Spring
The Journey of a Library Book: A Behind-the-Scenes Look

STEP 1: ORDERING
Librarians in our Adult and Youth Services departments are each assigned different parts of our collection. So whoever is in charge of, for example, the fiction books for adults will regularly submit orders of those books to our suppliers based on popularity of upcoming titles, patron requests, and other factors outlined in our Collection Development policy.

STEP 2: WAITING
After the orders are submitted, the wait time before it arrives at the Library depends on many factors: how far out the publication date is, production and shipping timelines, and so on. Depending on when you place a hold on an item, this step can often take the most time.

STEP 3: PROCESSING
Once the book does arrive at the Library, it goes through several stages within our Technical Services department to get ready for checkout. After unboxing and verifying the item is correct, staff add it to the catalog. If it has holds or relates to a time-sensitive theme (like Christmas or Black History Month), it gets sent to the front of the line for processing—adding a shelf location sticker, barcode, and so on.

STEP 4: SHELVING
The book is finally ready to read! If it has holds on it already, either by Morton Grove patrons or others in our consortium, the Circulation department adds it to the holds shelf or ships it to another library. If not, they send it to the shelves to be checked out by a lucky patron.
Help us celebrate National Library Week (April 3-9) by joining in fun daily activities for MGPL's Spirit Week! We'll share different themed activities all week, leading up to the ribbon-cutting ceremony for our newly renovated Youth Services Department on Sunday, April 10.

Participate in person at the Library or on social media by tagging us with a photo of your contribution to each day’s theme. Every day you participate will increase your chances of winning a $100 Visa gift card.

April is NATIONAL
MONTH

Poet-Tree
We are celebrating National Poetry Month in April with a “Poet-Tree” in the Lincoln Avenue entrance. To help it grow, pick up a leaf at the Info Desk and write an original poem or one of your favorites on it, then return it to the Info Desk. Be sure to check on the tree’s progress and enjoy each other’s poems throughout the month!

Poem In Your Pocket Day
Tuesday, April 26
Visit the Info Desk and pick up a poem to put in your pocket in celebration of National Poetry Month. Read it, enjoy it, and take it with you to share with others or keep for yourself.
